

Paper Towel Game

- Have students think about the last time they made a mess at home, either in the bathroom or in the kitchen.
- Once all of the students have remembered their latest incident, ask them to keep this example in mind.
- Pass around a roll of paper towels.
- Ask students to take as many paper towels as they used to clean up their mess.
- After everyone has some paper towels, ask each of the students to share one good thing about themselves for each square of paper towel they took.
